

Build a statue to celebrate your favorite wrestler.

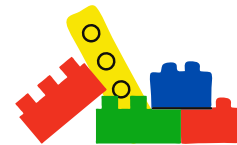

Build your own monster. Make it as scary as possible.

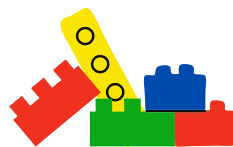

Build your own pet. Make it as cute as possible.

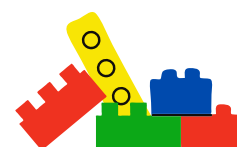

Create and build your own Pokemon.

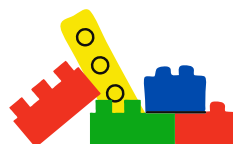

Build your own amusement park ride.

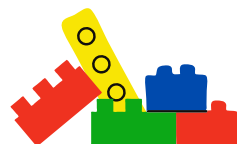

Build your dream bunk bed.

You want to attract birds to your yard. Build the perfect bird house.

Build your ideal back yard playset.

Questions to consider:

1. What usually scares people?
2. What scares you?

Questions to consider:

1. Who is your favorite?
2. What is special about them?

Questions to consider:

1. What "type" of Pokemon will it be?
2. What powers will it have?

Questions to consider:

1. What would you like in a pet?
2. What do people find cute?

Questions to consider:

1. What features would you want?
2. How can you fit those in a bed?

Questions to consider:

1. What will the ride do?
2. Will it be fun, scary, or both?

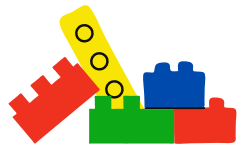

Questions to consider:

1. What ages will you build this playset for?
2. What activities will your set include?

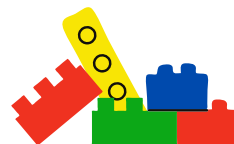

Questions to consider:

1. What birds do you want to attract?
2. What features would they like?

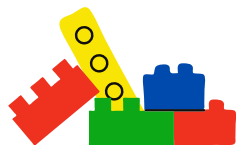

You are trapped on a desert island. Build a shelter.

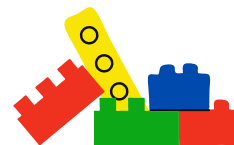

You're traveling to Mars. Build a space shuttle.

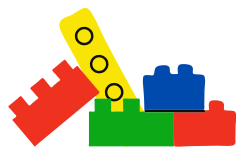

A large meteor is headed to Earth. Build a bunker.

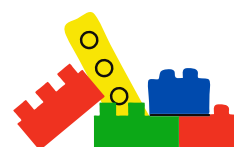

You're going on an African safari. Build your vehicle.

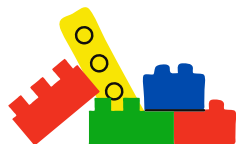

Build a suit that will allow you to fly.

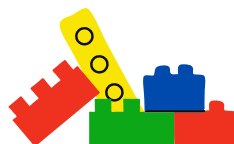

You've caught Big Foot. Build a cage to hold him.

You found the Loch Ness Monster. Build a weapon to fight him.

Build a robot to help you with your household chores.

Question to consider:

What features will your shuttle need for you to survive in outer space?

Question to consider:

What features will your shelter need to keep you safe?

Questions to consider:

1. How will you make it safe?
2. How will you make it easy to see the animals?

Questions to consider:

1. How can you make it strong enough to withstand a meteor?
2. What supplies will you need inside?

Questions to consider:

1. What features will you include?
2. How will it prevent him from escaping?

Questions to consider:

1. How will you make it safe?
2. How will you make it aerodynamic?

Questions to consider:

1. What chores will it do?
2. How will it operate?

Questions to consider:

1. What features will your weapon have?
2. How will it operate?